Quality policy

G STEEL IKE provides integrated metal fabrication services, covering the full scope from initial design to final delivery. It operates modern metal cutting and processing equipment, such as laser, CNC, punching and press brake machines, enabling high precision and quality in production.

With the aim of providing quality services to its customers, its partners and society at large, G STEEL IKE applies an integrated Quality System in accordance with the requirements of the ISO 9001:2015 standard, while committing to comply with the national, European and international legal requirements and regulations that govern its operation.

Its core principles are professional ethics in its relations with customers and partners, the continual improvement of its people, resources and processes, and the continual improvement of the Quality System.

To implement this policy, G STEEL IKE commits to:

01 Apply methods and procedures that reflect the current state of science and technology, the provisions of applicable legislation and all relevant requirements.

02 Embed legality and social responsibility in its operating principles.

03 Advertise its products objectively and in a socially responsible manner.

04 Use suitable equipment and trained personnel in all its areas of activity.

05 Systematically monitor and control every phase of the production process.

06 Set a specific framework of objectives, monitor them effectively and secure adequate resources to achieve them.

07 Ensure the availability of the information and resources needed to achieve its objectives and targets.

The decision to establish and implement the Quality Management System is tangible proof of the importance G STEEL IKE places on adopting international standards that ensure a quality-driven and environmentally responsible way of operating and of controlling its products and services.

The quality management system developed by G STEEL IKE is a dynamic system whose ultimate aim is the continual improvement of the company's operation and performance and of its personnel. It is an additional guarantee of the company's standing and reliability towards all its partners, it meets its customers' needs and expectations for timely and effective services, and it complies with the standards and specifications set by the European Union.

G STEEL IKE is committed to implementing this Policy, while ensuring that the Policy is known and understood at all levels and applied by all employees and department managers, who have been appropriately trained to implement it.

The Quality Manager is responsible for implementing and maintaining the above.
